Winona Loses 2 After Winning 15

The Phalen Luther team that came to our city on Saturday, September 25th, nearly went home with a scalp. During the first half of the Saturday game it seemed very evident that the game was for the two teams; and it seemed to be much of a Phalen Luther game. The local boys tried pass after pass only to find a Luther griddier ready to intercept them. The only yard gains for the T.C. were made on short runs and line smashes. Things looked dark for us after a fumble, a penalty and a dash or two had placed the Luther team in scoring territory, but the local team, however, showed plenty of fight when they held their heavier and more experienced opponents four downs.

During the second half the Winona team came back with a surprising change of conduct. No longer was the pass intercepted, no longer was the ball dropped when its carrier was tackled—the Winona Teachers were now playing football! Evidently Coach Habermann had put the intermission to good use. Well, anyway it didn't take Schoonover and Captain Johnson very long to advance the ball near enough to the goal so that McCready could take a neat pass from Schoonie and romp over for six points. The kick was blocked and the score was Winona 6, Phalen Luther 0. After the rest at the end of the third quarter the local eleven, led by Johnson, Schoonover and Gauger, soon were again in scoring territory and a dandy zig-zag twenty-five yard run by Gauger put the ball over and the Winona score had mounted to 12. Gauger made the kick to add the final point.

The game was not a spectacular one but it showed that the T.C. has a team that can fight and play football. The plays centered around Schoonie, Gauger and Johnson and the other men carried out their share of the plays in good style. Frequent substitutions showed that there is plenty of reserve strength.

The victory which now extends the W.S.T.C. undefeated record into its third year, was a costly one too, when Smilanich suffered a dislocated elbow that will keep him out of the game for a period of at least three weeks. His absence will materially weaken the lineup that Coach Habermann had planned.

The local gridders who participated in the first game of the year were: Wibye, Smilanich, Laughlin, Cooper, Garlock, Alberts, McCaffrey, Johnson, Gauger, Meyer, McCready, Daniels, Schoonover, Voorhees, Hydukovich, and Reihus.

CHAPEL TALK BY MISS SUTHERLAND

Miss Sutherland addressed the student body September twenty-third, in honor of friendship day. It has become a regular custom of the college to listen to an address by Miss Sutherland on this day and it is looked forward to with anticipation by the students and members of the faculty. Miss Sutherland brought out some fine ideas in her talk. She said, "We celebrate the fine art of friendship by giving ourself for another. Friendship is a matter of growth. If you have so much business on hand that you never have time for Friendship, you have more business than the God of Friendship ever intended you to have."

We can benefit by this fine address and increase the number of our friends.

Mr. Munson wants to know how Mr. Jederman could be without directions in Toronto when he is a married man.

GENEROSITY

Are we generous? I don't mean are we generous merely in the way of contributing within our means to support a worthy cause. Generosity is much more than a matter of giving dollars and cents. It is the giving of service to others, sympathy, tolerance, and kindness of heart.

"Service is the key of life" says professor Seashore. There is no place for the selfish, self-centered, self-seeking individual. Service must be rendered for the benefit of all. Each and everyone of us can be of service. Because no two of us act in the same manner the service we render will be different in form.

How can we be of service in our institution? First, we may help others grow mentally by putting at their disposal whatever we have gained in knowledge through education and through the experiences of life. If we give assistance freely, gladly, and honestly we are being generous. Second, we may partake in school activities. Make our generosity a dynamic force which will stimulate our fellow students to put forth their greatest efforts and contribute to the growth of the enterprise.

The best payment of generosity is the realization that we can be and are of use to others. Let us test ourselves in this matter. If we are not generous let us not waste time in useless reproaches. Let us make a new start.

"To work to help and to be helped — to learn sympathy through suffering — to learn faith by perplexity — to reach through wonder; behold! This is what it is to prosper — this is what it is to live." — PHILIP BROOKS.

STUDENT OPINION

Editor's Note—All communications in this column must be signed. The name of the writer will not necessarily be published.

Stop! Look! Listen! No doubt you have seen these words many times warning you for danger at railroad crossings; but have you ever thought of applying them to your life here at College? Why should you stop? There is something in education which can be very well compared to a business man. A good merchant knows the "in's" and "out's" of his profession, he knows where to apply greater efforts in order that he may realize greater gains, he knows his strong points and his weak points, and he knows the condition and amount of his stock through an inventory which is taken annually. Do you as a student know as much about your studies and activities as this merchant knows about his business? If you do not, it would be well worth your while to take an inventory of yourself. That is why you should stop; for after all, education is very much like an important business proposition, our profits being in accordance with the efforts and skill we apply in managing it. What in education requires you to look and to listen? To answer this question it is necessary first of all to understand just what is meant by the term education. Does it imply only formal study? If that were true, education for the most part would cover but a comparatively short period of time. Its meaning however is by far greater. You are being educated every day of your life. You are learning in terms of what you see, what you hear and what you feel. Formal subjects have been installed to give a foundation and basis for further growth; but it is your contacts which have molded you into the person that you really are. It is just these contacts which College offers to its students. Look about you listen! Were you to follow these simple directions, there could be no doubt that you would leave the place of formal education, a bigger, better and individual YOU.

defeated our team 13 to 0 at Menomonie. The game was as hard fought as any game that a Winona team has had to play. The hard game also had its effects on the players, four of our boys returning with injuries of more or less seriousness. Gauger had his shoulder badly bruised, Laughlin had an ankle sprained, McCready was badly jarred, and numerous other men receiving unwelcome bruises and bumps.

Inexperienced as they were, the Winona lads gave the veteran Stout team a hard battle and in fact, came very nearly scoring many times during the four periods. But they always lacked the final punch so these opportunities were lost.

During the first half neither team showed much superiority and this period ended without either team scoring. During this time the W.S.T.C. really had the advantage — once working the ball to the five yard line only to lack the winning punch.

In the final period Coach Habermann sent Meyers into the game to replace Gauger after Bob had his shoulder twisted, and some splendid running by Meyers soon put the ball within a foot of the goal — but our eleven was unable to get any farther.

Meyers, Cooper, Captain Johnson, and Gauger formed a quartet that caused plenty of trouble for the Stout linesmen and were responsible for most of the gains made by the local team.

Gauger made the best play of the game, that a long run in the third period a short time before he was forced to leave the game.

WIS. SCHOOL OF MINES 6, WINONA 0

A group of sturdy young miners from a Wisconsin school came to our city and administered to our football eleven its second consecutive shutout. The miners proved to us very thoroughly that they were better back-to-nature men than the lads on the Winona Teachers College football team — at least it seemed so, for during the game which was played in a driving rain these sturdy miners seemed right at home and carried the wet football up and down the field as if it had handles on it.

The Winona team was indeed a great surprise to the local followers, as it seemed as if there was hardly a man playing his regular position. The injuries suffered in the Stout game forced Coach Habermann to shift his lineup as best he could and it proved none too good. This shift of men from one position to another seemed to upset any playing formations and plans that had ever been in existence before and during the game the reorganized eleven failed to show the fight and snap that was necessary for the victory.

Line plays were tried and when they were smeared terribly by the heavier and more experienced Miner linesmen, the Minnesota lads tried to fool the Wisconsin boys with an aerial attack but for the most part few gains were made by this route. The ball was too wet for the future-teachers and fumbles were frequent and costly.

The great work of Sandsness at center was the bright light of the new W.S.T.C. team. This lanky young man together with Mike Hyduclovich and Garlock were forever causing the oncoming Miners trouble and much of it. Meyers, Garlock, Voorhees and Schoonover were the most consistent ground-grainers for the Teachers.

The loss of this game in itself was not as hard to realize as the fact that with it went our football captain — Ev. Johnson. Captain Johnson was the unfortunate receiver of a hard Miner rush and when the mud of battle had settled he was found to have such a badly bruised shoulder that he was forced to retire. Monday morning he came to school with his arm bound up looking very much as Smilanich had when that Ranger lad received his injury in the Phalen Luther game. Who knows why the injury jinx is following our team this year? Why pick on us — good football men are hard to train (just ask Coach Habermann if they aren't) so leave us the few we have got! At present there is hardly a T.C. player that isn't limping or trying to protect sore shoulders.

SECRETARY'S LEDGER

The Mason Music Club held its first meeting Monday, September twentieth, for the purpose of electing officers. The following were elected: President, Ewald Kintze; Vice-President, Alice Mondale; Secretary-Treasurer, Kaisa Baraas.

The club pins were discussed at the last meeting, and suggestions were made to have a slight change from those of the preceding year.

The Twin City Club enjoyed a social meeting and luncheon on Thursday, September twenty-third in the Shepard Hall Social room. Miss Mary Frances Gregg, a guest at the luncheon, was asked to become faculty advisor for the club. The hostesses for the occasion were Edith Laughlin, Anne Carroll and Arlene Goltz.

The County Life Club met September twenty-eighth. Miss Christianson spoke on the year's program. It was decided that a term fee of fifty cents be charged to the members of the club. This marks the beginning of a very interesting year for the club.

The Art Club has been busy judging tryouts which were especially successful this year, both in number and quality of work. It was very difficult to decide which tryouts to eliminate, and which to accept. Because of the abundance of talent, the club has been enlarged to eighteen. The club also has a reserve and a waiting list.

We take this opportunity of thanking publicly all those who tried out. Those admitted to the club are as follows: Viola Richter, Beth Krier, Madeline Data, Virginia Spanton, Lois Holbrook, Mayme Naylcki, Mary Benson, Dorothy Hall, Miss Lassila. Reserves: Mrs. Duffy, Nellie Bennett, May Seavey.

The following officers were elected: President, Nicolene Hedberg; Secretary, Mildred Malloy; Treasurer, Virginia Spanton; Chairman of Social Committee, Dorothy Hall; Chairman of Program Committee, Geraldine Swift.

The Club plans to study the visual side of the theatre together with several other problems this year.

A number of girls were pleasingly entertained by the Y.W.C.A. at a hike and weenie roast on Saturday, October second. Races for tall, short, fat, and "skinny" girls were entered into with spirit. The winners of these were awarded prizes.

On September twentieth-third, the Kindergarten Club held a meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the year. These are: President, Myrna Hanson; First Vice-President, Beulah Sanders; Second Vice-President, Cleo Reiter; Secretary, Leonore Wilson; Treasurer, Kemma Houim.

Another meeting was held, October fifth, to discuss the Gutgesel Christmas Card Book which will again be used by the club to earn money for its Scholarship Fund. The book contains many beautiful cards and novel gifts. Several persons have already availed themselves of this opportunity to "do their Christmas shopping early."

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The Phelps Junior High School wishes to thank the Winonan staff for allowing them space in their paper.

We have organized a permanent staff who will prepare the news of the school for publication.

Friday, October first, the Ninth grade met to decide on the staff for our column in the paper. Dorothea Brooks was elected editor-in-chief, Charles Weisman and Harriet Meginnis, sport editors, Dorothy Spanton and William Scarborough, news editors, Bernice Haesly, reporter for Miss Grannis and Adrian Towne, reporter for Mr. Fishbaugher. Miss Brunner is general advisor.

Our plan is to include in this column the things that will most interest the students of the college.

"What Price Success?"

This was the title of an interesting and instructive talk given by President Maxwell on Thursday, September thirtieth.

President Maxwell told us that success is won only by Work. The steps he advises us to take to obtain the best results are: Health, Character, Personality, Education and Service.

"Success, the aim we are all working toward, is service for others," he said.

The seventh grade had a party October first. All the pupils and teachers of the seventh grade were present. They were entertained by telling jokes and riddles and by playing games. One of the most interesting features was a rummy dance given by two of the boys of the seventh grade. Baskets of fruit were brought in for refreshments.

Another party was the one given by the girls of last year to welcome the new girls. Each girl brought supper for a new girl or for one of the teachers.

The girls of the Phelps Junior High School are having a tennis tournament. Those who have not been eliminated are Bernice Haesly, Barbara French, Marjorie Gilbertson, Rebecca Streater, and Harriet Meginnis. The final game will be played soon. The winner of the girls' tournament will play the winner of the boys' tournament of the championship.

The girls of the Phelps Junior High School are grouped into an athletic association with Constitution and by-laws.

Last Saturday, nineteen of the girls went on a hike with three physical-education teachers. They took their breakfast as this was to be a breakfast hike. They went over the Huff Street Bridge to the foot of Garvin Heights and then followed the trail around the base of the bluff till they came to a small picnic place where they stopped to eat. The teachers built a fire and fried bacon and eggs. This hike counts five miles toward the sixteen miles which are required by the Athletic Association for the ten hiking points.

The boys of the Phelps Junior High School are having a tennis tournament which began last week. The boys who have not been eliminated from the tournament are: Jack Miller, Adrian Towne, Larry Boyd, Allyn Morgan, Bobby Boyd, Lyle Schoonover, Charles Weisman, and Eugene Thrune.

In the next issue of the paper the winners will be announced.

All Junior High students have been given the privilege of being admitted to the College football games at the unusually low price of ten cents.

We trust many will take advantage of this offer and patronize all games on the home ground.
